

Brief Project Description

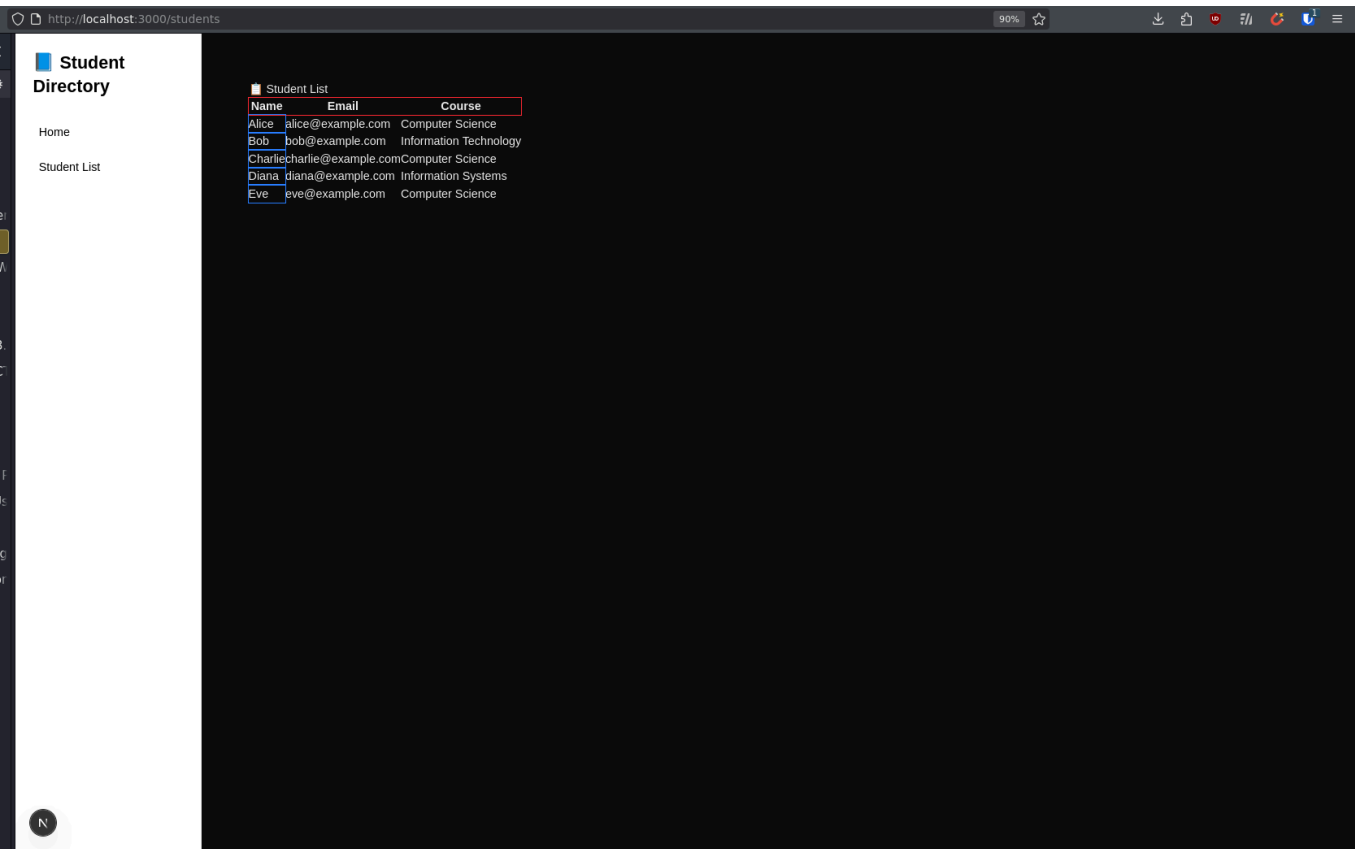

- This is my week 7 midterms project. The project is a simple student directory that shows a list of students.
- When clicking at the student name, it would show only the details of the student.

Screenshots

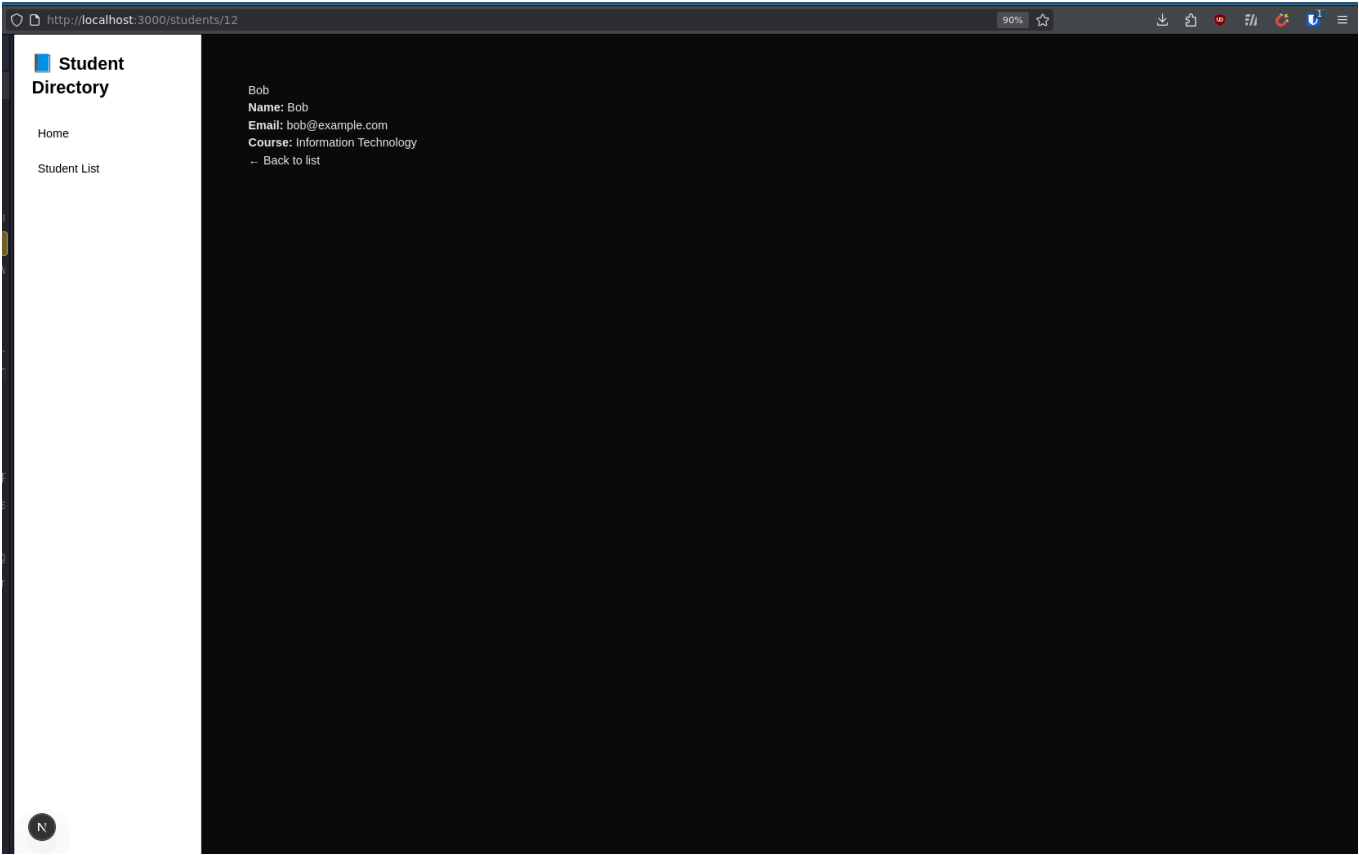

/ → homepage

/students → student directory list page

/student/[id] → this shows only one student.

this is the 12th student because I setup the database too much now my student id reached around 15th. This applies to every student in the database.